CURRENT RESEARCH PROJECTS

“Lin Qiaozhi and Yang Chongrui: Divergent Biographies in 20th-Century China's Reproductive Health” (working title). Conducting research for a book manuscript on the history of women's health in 20th-century China.

“Antibiotics Usage in Rural China,” June 2016-present

Consult on project design for successful CHF50,000 (US$50,850) Rolex Award for Enterprise with the Chinese Academy of Sciences, the University of Pittsburgh, Shaanxi Environmental Protection Agency, Shaanxi Women's Federation, and Shaanxi Public Health Bureau.

“Using Standardized Patients and eHealth Training Program to Reduce Know-Do Gap among Rural Doctors in Northwestern China,” March 2014-present

Consult on project design and co-write grants to train rural village doctors in northwest China using clinical vignettes and standardized patients protocol. This pioneering approach is aimed at improving patient-doctor relationships, diagnosis and treatment, and will ultimately result in improved health outcomes for rural villagers.

“Nourishing the Future: Targeting Infants and Their Caregivers to Reduce Under-nutrition in Rural China,” December 2013-December 2015

Consulted on project design and co-wrote successful $150,000 China Medical Board grant to determine most effective methods of distributing micronutrient supplements and nutritional educational information to infant caregivers. Includes an innovative text-messaging system to provide health and nutrition information to parents in rural northwest China.
